Proposed Project Information

Project Title: Systematic Review of Academic Literature Related to Sustainable Development in Rural Areas through Electricity Access

Planned Start Date: July 1, 2020

Planned End Date: Aug 15, 2020

Project Overview:

We are looking for a team of 3-4 students to extract certain data and keywords from a list of academic articles they are assigned. The students will then organize the collected information in an Excel-based database.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Interested in the academic research process and planning to pursue a graduate degree
- Ability to extract high-level concepts from complex information sources
- Attention to detail
- Strong English skills

The students are expected to attend regular meetings with the two faculty members overseeing the research project. A good performance in international academic studies such as this project are especially useful for students planning to apply for graduate degrees abroad.
